What To Expect At Developer 201

The 201 is hands-on and in person at the Fuuz® Training Lab in Rochester Hills, Michigan. Here is how to be ready.

Watch for our emails

Our team verifies your enrollment and emails you. Check your inbox, including junk and spam. Payment details are in that email.

BEFORE CLASS

Our Center of Excellence team steps in

Watch for three things:

- Trainer Central (our Learning Management System) link. Create your login and finish the prerequisite course.
- Training App login for qa.bootcamp.fuuz.app. No email? Go to the site, enter your email and follow account recovery.
- Microsoft Teams invites for the course. Join live so instructors can share content and answer questions.

Be ready when you arrive

Your prerequisites must be finished: you have logged into your app, completed the online prerequisites and any other pre-flight checks. We cannot take time away from class to help with this. If you need assistance, reach out the week before training.

Arrive 30 minutes early

On your first day, arrive at least 30 minutes before class starts. That is time to connect to our network, open your Training App and connect any equipment you need. Settle any IT support your organization needs before class, or you may not be able to join every activity until it is resolved.

Is the 201 right for you?

If you have limited technical experience, or little experience with report writing, Excel development, JSONata or JavaScript, you may find the 201 challenging. We make our best effort to keep everyone up to speed. If you are unsure whether to attend, please ask us first at bootcamps@fuuz.com.

On site

Bring: a laptop with Chrome or Edge, its charger, and questions about your own use cases.

We provide: a workstation, lunch daily, snacks, and a cohort dinner during the week.

Class starts at 9:00 a.m. sharp and runs until 4–5 p.m. The final day closes at 2–3 p.m.

Recordings and materials

Every session is recorded, and recordings are provided at the end of each day. Any materials presented are provided to students.
